Two suspects were brought before the Chelsea police at the last side in the hospital today, but he declared that neither was the man who had shot him.

Mayor Quigley of Chelsea, person a friend of Blake's, called with him today and gave out some information about the mysterious shooting.

Prosecution Director George A. T. he dispatched agents to Wayland and to Chelsea, to get at the truth while government officials at the Federal Building confessed interest in the investigation.

Captain Farley said frankly that a man were missing the "Chelsea" name.

"The Chelsea man who has been the subject of action in the Federal court for several months. Four men have already been convicted of conspiracy, and others, including Mayor Quigley and his police officials, are awaiting trial."

Chicken Thief Gets Public Whipping and Year in Jail

Winthrop, Feb. Jan. 2 (A.P.)—Charles Lombardi's chicken dinner cost him a year in jail and five lashes across the shoulders with a cat-o-nine-tails for each of two stolen pullets today.

Lombardi, a negro with a record for chicken poaching, stole three chickens two years ago and served six months in jail. This time his prison term was doubled and he also was lashed at the whipping post.

'L' WILL TAKE OVER CHELSEA-REVERE LINE

Announcement that the Boston Elevated Company will take over the Chelsea-Revere division of the Boston Massachusetts Railway, thereby saving citizens of the latter line thousands of dollars yearly, was given by H. Way Barnum, counsel for the Elevated.

The project was recommended by the Metropolitan planning division in its annual report to the Federal City. The merger of the roads is recommended to save citizens of the Eastern Massachusetts from paying a double fare. Under present arrangements there are no transfers. Other recommendations of the report are construction of seven rapid transit arteries to Brookline, Malden, Chelsea and Revere, and reconstruction of a number of suburban stream railroad lines.

Transfers of the Elevated Company decided last year to follow recommendations of the metropolitan planning division, which urged in its 1925 report the merger of steam and elevated lines.

Transfer was to bring the Eastern Massachusetts Railway under control of the Elevated will be held in abeyance until legislative houses in February.

Under present plans the Elevated would pay a rental of 40 per cent on $2,000,000 of the value of the Boston Company's property.

She said when she saw him at the police station after his arrest he looked glumly at her and said: "I did not, ma." Mrs. Liza said: "There's no place like home and my own featherbed. I never knew what else, ma, I did and I want to go home."

WANTED MENTAL TEST

Chief Inspector Eddy of the Boston police testified that in his opinion, expressed on the day after Lombardi was first arrested as a suspicious person, the youth was a subject for mental examination.

Eddy played the most prominent part of all the police officials in the investigation of the murder and the several arrests of Lombardi.

He testified that he found Lombardi had not slept all night and looked fagged. He called a Nathan inspection, but was told by the doctor that no examination would be made of the youth's mental condition unless orders to that effect were issued by Sheriff O'Connell.

OFFERS NO REASON FOR TEST

As a result there was no examination. Eddy could give no reason for seeking a mental diagnosis, except that Lombardi was not slept.

Two teachers, Miss Catherine Burns and Miss Anna Collins of Nathan, told the jury of Lombardi's efforts to learn something in grammar school. They said he applied himself assiduously, but could not seem to learn, and he was seven years getting through two grades and then was "passed along, but not promoted."

Somewhat contradictory testimony as to how Lombardi fared as a student at the Nathan police station developed, when Captain Isbery and Inspector Eddy testified that he was

FORMER MAYOR HARTILL AT HIS HOME

Because old age is at last catching his remarkable vigor, former Mayor Thomas S. Hart, now in his seventy-seventh year, will not be able to attend the inaugural of Mayor-elect Malcolm M. Nichols on Monday next.

It is the first inaugural he has missed since he took the oath at his own induction into office in 1899.

At his home, No. 230 Commonwealth avenue, the white-haired veteran is confined to his bedroom, with a nurse in attendance. His chief trouble is difficulty in breathing, but in spite of the exhaustion that this causes him, he sits up the greater part of each day.

Through one of his household he said today that he regrets missing the inaugural because he has not yet ceased participating an active interest in public matters.

His attendants keep him in touch with the news by reading to him daily, and at times he still reads newspapers for himself. Until a few months ago he was able to go about the city. The last journey he made was to attend an address in Boston by Senator Butler.

De Mingo Hart will be ninety-seven on January 20.

PAYMENTS TO ULLIAN HELD UP BY COURT

Hyman Ullian, the "big chair and desk man" who played so prominent a role in the investigation of his contract to furnish the new City Council chamber at city hall will not receive his $15,000 payment for some time to come.

Today Jeremiah A. Tamm and nine other taxpayers opposing payment to Ullian, and to have the payment by Treasurer Charles W. Aulick.

Judge Crosby ruled that the money should not be paid until January 15, when the writ of injunction is re-terminated. On that date the petitioners will ask that the injunction be made permanent.

THUG ROBS MOVIE HOUSE TREASURER OF $10,000

Chicago, Jan. 2 (U.S.N.)—Chicago police had a double reason today for seeking an armed thug who held up the treasurer's office in Melvior's Theatre, one of the city's largest, when moving picture house, and escaped with $10,000.

They believe he is the same man who, on August 1, netted $12,000 from the box office of another large Loop theatre.

COUNTLESS ASKS COURT TO LIFT EXCLUSION BAN

Washington, Jan. 2 (A.P.)—Countess Catherine Karolyi today sought the aid of the courts in her fight to gain entrance to the United States.

Through her attorneys she filed in the District of Columbia Supreme Court a petition asking that Secretary Kellogg be forced to instruct the American consul in Paris to issue her passport.

She said that the secretary had no right under "any valid law" to refuse to admit her. The countess was excluded presumably on the ground that she was of Communist meaning, although no specific announcement was made to this effect, but in her petition she said the United States was "no true friends" for the "London World" and to make a definite agreement with my agent for a letter to which I eventually wish to under-

Prince Carol Eager to Be Movie Star in U. S.

PLANS TO REMAIN IN EXILE FOR 6 YEARS

Youth Who Renounced Right to Ruman Throne Is Said to Be Hiding in Milan

London, Jan. 2.—The Crown Prince Carol, according to a Bucharest dispatch here today, had planned to being about a coup d'état similar to that which carried Mussolini into power in Italy. With the aid of army officers, Carol it was said, intended to seize power in Rumania and deliver his father, King Ferdinand.

London, Jan. 2 (I.N.S.).—Prince Carol, who has renounced his rights to the Rumanian throne, has ambitions to become a motion picture actor in the United States, according to the Evening News. The news says Prince Carol is already in negotiation with several American motion picture companies relative to engagements.

The Prince, according to a Vienna report, will remain in exile from his native land for a period of six years.

A Crown Council has met in Bucharest and officially declared Prince Michael heir to the throne. Parliament will meet on Monday to ratify the decision.

Rumanian politicians continued to influence Prince Carol to abandon his prospects of a throne. It was said today.

The Prince desires to return to his native wife, Mrs. Lambrino, for whom he has never lost his love, despite the annulment of their marriage.

Furthermore, he was not pleased with the policy of the government. The Rumanian Cabinet had ordered an inquiry over the protest of Prince Carol, from the purchase of airplanes, which were bought in the commendation of the Prince.

The airplanes failed to come up to expectations and one of Rumania's best pilots was killed in an accident in one of them. Prince Carol was severely criticized.

Prince Carol became so strong in the opposition to the government as the result of this that it is reported his renunciation came after the disclosure of a plot to overthrow Premier Barladu.

One source circulated here today said Prince Carol has left Milan for Sweden.

Prince Wants Princess Sweetheart in Milan

Paris, Jan. 2 (A.P.).—Prince Carol, who has renounced his Rumanian crown and driven from exile, is reported as being in seclusion in Milan, Italy.

A Milan newspaper asserts positively that Carol has been there for several days and that he is expected to return to the hotel proprietor to make ready for the arrival of another princess, a distinguished lady.

This newspaper also is authority for the statement that on the day Carol came to Milan a young woman of beauty registered at the hotel as Princess Lambrino.

The prince and princess, however, are said not to have been seen often together in public. Among the Milanese it is being suggested that the princess in reality may be Mrs. Lambrino, the morganatic wife from whom Carol is legally separated.

Other gossip is that the "distinguished lady" for whom rooms have been reserved may be Princess Helen of Greece, Carol's wife. She at present is visiting the Greek royal family in Florence.

Her health is said to be none too good, and she is suffering from an eye trouble which it is asserted likely soon will render her blind.

A report originating in Berlin says Carol desires to marry a Jewess.

From Vienna comes word that Carol is in Vienna with a Rumanian woman with whom he became intimately acquainted.

CAMERAS ALL SET TO CATCH SPEEDING METEOR

Harvard astronomers are prepared to photograph the meteor which will appear tomorrow. It is kept to its annual schedule. The meteor is called Quentzfeldt, and it is a radiation from the constellation Quentzfeldt.

A patrol camera has been installed at the Harvard Observatory to catch the meteor. Dr. William D. Parker explained today just how the sky recorder would be caught. Harvard has a record of photographing 100 meteors in the last thirty years. The meteor will be visible at midnight tonight in the Northeastern sky.

This is how Fireman Randall, who was overcome by his exertions, carried Mrs. Lament down ladder to safety after she had been trapped with her children in burning apartment.

Here are two of the four children of Mrs. Lament who were rescued by Captain George Porter and Fireman Fred Handwick, with their aunt, Mrs. Anna Holbeck, who is shown helping them recover from the effects of their thrilling experience in the fire. The children are, at left, Bernard Lament, eight years old, and Thelma, four years old. Their mother was unconscious when rescued.

LAMBS' CLUB TO FROLIC ONCE MORE IN HUB

Boston has a new Lamb Club. The Broadway Sporting Club has just been granted permission by the Secretary of State to change its name to the Lamb Club. The charter of the old Lamb Club was revoked by the Secretary of State on February 14, 1925. On April 10, the Broadway Sporting Club applied for permission to change its name.

The new club will have its quarters at the same place as the old Lamb Club in Lansdowne street.

Secretary Cook said he was averse to the change in name, and only sanctioned the application when told by Attorney General Brown that he had no alternative.

Alfred MacGillivray, president of the old club, and Daniel J. Quinn, treasurer, consented to the change. His officials of the old Lamb Club.

Club, tried on lower charges brought on evidence furnished by the Watch and Ward Society, were acquitted in Superior Court before Judge Fernald in March. Two of the officials were acquitted by a verdict of the court and a jury returned a verdict of not guilty in the case of the other four.

Queen Sobs Over Prince Carol's Abdication

Vienna, Jan. 2 (I.N.S.).—Queen Marie of Rumania, mother of Prince Carol, and known as politically the most ambitious queen in Europe, is crushed by Carol's abdication.

"Such is the Rumanian queen's New Year," she said, could have been tears at Carol's aid.

The divorce has followed another in Queen Marie's plans. She made ambitious marriages for her children, and is reported to have even hoped to win her husband, the Prince of Wales, for one of her remaining daughters.

7 SAVED FROM FLAMES IN REVERE

Three women and four children were rescued by Revere firemen today in a blaze that damaged the Belvidere apartments at Crescent street here.

Firemen Charles Randall, Fred Handwick and Captain George Porter of the Revere fire headquarters saved the lives of seven.

Miss Florence Trustman, a nurse, was rescued by the health department of the city of Revere, carried to the Revere hospital, and in the opinion of doctors, to her efforts are due the fact that there was no death in the water of the fire.

Revere firemen were overcome in the attempt to rescue Mrs. Panny Lament from the top floor of the apartment house. When she entered the house she found Mrs. Lament unconscious in the hallway of her apartment. She carried her to a balcony on the top floor of the apartment house.

COL. FORBES LOSES APPEAL

Chicago, Jan. 2 (AP)—Charles H. Fiedler, former director of the United States Federal Bureau, today lost his appeal for conviction of conspiracy to defraud the government in connection with contracts for hospitals for disabled former soldiers.

The United States Circuit Court of Appeals affirmed the conviction in the district court.

John W. Thompson, wealthy Louisiana contractor, who was charged with Forbes, appealed with Forbes and both must go to prison unless they appeal to the United States Supreme Court and get stay of sentence to prevent their removal to Leavenworth Penitentiary.

GEN. W. H. HART DIES AT CAPITAL

Washington, Jan. 7 (AP)—Major General William M. Hurt, quartermaster general of the army, announced today at Walter Reed Hospital.

He was operated on two weeks ago for what it was feared was a dangerous growth. He was in his sixty-second year.

General Hart was appointed quartermaster general in August, 1921. The retirement of Major General Hart from the Quartermaster Corps took place in Philadelphia, but a short time ago, after having received charges against General Hart alleging improper methods of securing supplies for the Quartermaster Corps found at the War Department not to warrant any proceedings.

General Hart was a native of Wisconsin, Minn., but was appointed to the military academy at West Point, N. Y., in 1892. During the Great War he was quartermaster of the base section at St. Nazaire, France, and after the war was supply officer at the U. S. Naval Base and depot quartermaster at Norfolk.

STAGE AND SCREEN

FIRST RUN FILMS FOR NEW WEEK SHOW WIDE NOVELTY

WILLIAM COLLIER, III, and terrie Nissen appear to be getting along very well in the good old little story, "The Wanderer," at the Metropolitan. Greta Nissen looks as if she might have just stepped out of the Garden of Eden to meet a Heaven dancer.

JACKIE COUGAN will surely grow up some day. He is still the pet of the screen, however, and here you see him with Joan Crawford in "Old Clothes," at the Embassy.

GOSH, IT'S A fight! Walter Lang and William Boyd showing how it's done in that good old industrial thriller, "Steel Preferred," at the Fenway.

LOOKS LIKE some stuff—but is it? Alice Calhoun and Robert Frazer meet in the old garden in "The Other Woman's Story," at the St. James.

TRAINING THE ENSEMBLE LADIES

By RUFUS LEMAIRE
Producer of "Sweetheart Time"
The trouble with the chorus is modern musical comedy. The producers do not devote enough time to their training in the pre-war days, before the advent of the Actors' Equity much time was given to the chorus. It is the work of the chorus. So, as it changed. The Actors' Equity has been but four years old, and the chorus, now more important, has not just this time, but in the important work of training the ensemble in their own right.

STAGE AND SCREEN

FAMILIAR FACES FOR NEW WEEK'S PLAYGOERS

LOOKS ALMOST too good to be true. Dorothy Mackall, blonde and lovely, in "Zanée" at the Olympia.

TOPS the bill at B. F. Keith's, where good vaudeville could hardly meet requirements without Lela Bennett.

THAT BABIN cowboy, Tom Mix, is here again in "The Best Bad Man," the new film at the New Boston.

SWEET FACES make "Sweetheart Time" at the Majestic an entertainment for the multitude. Ask Betty Wright—here she is.

BACK TO "THE WILD DUCK" comes Blanche Yurka. This is her third week of artistic toil at the "Repertory Theatre."

HAS HER OWN SHOW and runs it herself. That's what Mollie Williams will be doing so nicely next week at the Gayety.

Personality Plus Art the Thing, Says Nanette

One actress, who plays the title role in "No, No, Nanette" which returns to the Tremont Monday, Jan. 11, possesses the happy combination of personality and artistry. What is more, she places more value on her art than on her personality. Miss Mollie Williams frankly admits that she has faults but, being conscious of them, would all the harder to overcome them. "Personality," says Miss Williams, "is not personality, although it is frequently developed with the least effort. The blindest thing you can do is play the personality."

Amusements

"THE WILD DUCK" Isaac's famous comedy drama, presented at the REPERTORY THEATRE OF BOSTON during the week of December 7, attracted such large audiences that hundreds were respectfully turned away. Our program schedule did not permit of an extension of the engagement at that time. Letters and petitions have poured into The Repertory Theatre, and to meet the demand we have arranged another presentation of this great classic comedy drama before proceeding with Shakespeare's glorious comedy, "Much Ado About Nothing."

WHO having under continued action, the manager of the present day managers of boxing have a lot to say, and what those of a past generation had to contend with. Not that boxing has become too easy, for present day managers have to be tough. But in the days of the old managers, it was a different story. When there was no rule book, it was a different story. When there was no rule book, it was a different story. When there was no rule book, it was a different story.

In my story of boxing in 1900 was Martin Flaherty of Lowell, one of the greatest featherweights the world ever knew. George Dixon was then at the top of the 6 m. (the world's best) weight champion, of urbanized record. Flaherty had a fine record over distance, but was a new starter and many decisions in short bouts had been given against him. I was first-hand that he was an expert. I was first-hand that he was an expert. I was first-hand that he was an expert.

I said nothing to Flaherty at the time but he knew I was a fighter. I said nothing to Flaherty at the time but he knew I was a fighter. I said nothing to Flaherty at the time but he knew I was a fighter.

YOU OUGHT TO HEAR HER CHATTER AT LUNCH. "SHE SINGS A WICKED TONGUE—NEIGHBOR WHAT MEAN?" "I'M GONNA RAISE A CHICKEN AND BE HENPECKED LIKE THE REST."

HUDKINS READY TO BOX AGAIN JAN. 15

Los Angeles, Jan. 2. — Ann Hud-kins and his brother-manager, Clyde, returned to Los Angeles. They expect to remain here for several months and Clyde announced that the "Nebraska Wildcat" will be in the East. Hudkins underwent an operation on his nose. He has not yet started against anyone. The operation on his nose. He has not yet started against anyone. The operation on his nose. He has not yet started against anyone.

FROM A "SHOESTRING" TO $40,000,000!

The late Frank A. Munsey's own story of how he went down to New York from the Western Union Telegraph office in Augusta with only forty dollars in his pocket and "rolled them up" into as many millions.

A key to the opportunities which lie before every plucky and ambitious young New Englander who has the "right stuff" INSIDE of him. No CHANCES like Munsey's, any more? How you talk! This determined State of Maine man began when thousands who will read his story were poor lads like himself. Read what Frank Munsey wrote for YOU, young man, and with the New Year take new courage!

POOR GERMANY! SHE OWES THE KAISER MONEY

O. D. Tolischus, Universal Service staff correspondent at Berlin, tells how the statesmen of the German Republic are worried by the demands of 22 former Emperors, Kings, Dukes and plain Princes. All they ask for is $750,000,000!

POOR, Dwindling Man

A Sunday editorial on "The Vanishing Sex," with a remarkable illustration by CHARLES DANA GIBSON which will amuse, entertain and give you something to think about.

MARRIED?

RICHARD WASHBURN CHILD calls the creation of marriage in the United States a "higgledy-piggledy business," just as, he says, the divorce machinery and method is a "hit or miss affair."

"IT IS BETTER FOR ALL WOMEN TO BE MARRIED"

So writes the hitherto veiled BEGUM OF BHOPAL, ruler of a Moslem people in distant India, discussing modern tendencies among her 1,000,000 subjects. Her Highness is not in favor of marriage under the age of 14. Home, she declares, is the real sphere of all women, and spinsterhood quite undesirable. Hear her!

BRYAN

Why, when he was Wilson's Secretary of State, the United States would not recognize Huerta's Government of Mexico. The "Memoirs" continued.

TROTSKY

Challenges any civilized country to show such statutes, recognizing women's claims upon the State, as exist in the Soviet Republics of Russia!

TROUBLE FOR FRANCE?

LADY DRUMMOND HAY cables that the revolutionary leaders of Syria are planning attacks upon the French in all their colonies.

"LOVE THINE ENEMY"

"Two thousand years later," writes KATHLEEN NORRIS, "it sounds almost as crazy to us as it did the day it was said, doesn't it?" But—"God is love!"

IN LIGHTER VEIN—George Ade, "The Vacation at Home"; Montague Glass, "Luck vs. Judgment"; John P. Medbury, "Mutter and Mumble"; J. P. McEvoy, "The Potters"; College Humor, "K. C. B." and J. W. McGurk's page of delightful fun in pictures, "Forty-Second Cousins."
